Letter of Recommendation

Right To Play is an international organization using sport and play based activities to build essential skills in children and youth and thereby drive social change in communities affected by poverty, disease and war.

This is to express that Institute for Education, Health and Development Plc (INEHD), represented by Dr. Belay Hagos Hailu, had contracted a consultancy for Right To Play on May 2012 and successfully conducted the study entitled "Effects of RTP Interventions Including the Red Ball Child Play Resources on Early Primary School Children's Development: a Longitudinal Study".

We would, therefore, like to express our satisfaction with the quality of work that INEHD had delivered to us and we wish them success in their future endeavors.

Best Regards,

Landuber Araya,

Country Manager
